THE PENNSYLVANIA MUSEUM,

Organized as a Museum of Industrial Arts, has grown far beyond the limits set for it at first. The pictures and statuary in the Bloomfield-Moore collection and the food-products in the collection of British India indicate its present scope. Its division into departments, under the supervision of specialists, has been undertaken. Those already organized comprise :

DEPARTMENT OF AMERICAN POTTERY.

DEPARTMENT OF NUMISMATICS.

F. D. LANGENHEIM, Honorary Curator.

DEPARTMENT OF TEXTILES, LACE AND EMBROIDERY.

MRS. JOHN HARRISON, Honorary Curator.

DEPARTMENT OF GOLDSMITH WORK, JEWELRY AND PLATE.

CHAS. D. CLARK, Honorary Curator.

DALTON DERR, Director of the Museum.

M. D. WOODNUTT, Assistant.

WILLIAM LINDSAY, Superintendent.

THE SCHOOL OF INDUSTRIAL ART

Comprises in its organization the following Departments :

SCHOOL OF DRAWING.

SCHOOL OF TEXTILE DESIGN AND MANUFACTURE.

SCHOOL OF DECORATIVE PAINTING.

SCHOOL OF CHEMISTRY AND DYEING.

SCHOOL OF APPLIED DESIGN.

SCHOOL OF WOOD CARVING.

SCHOOL OF DECORATIVE SCULPTURE.

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN.

SCHOOL OF MURAL DECORATION.

SCHOOL OF NORMAL ART INSTRUCTION.

SCHOOL OF MODERN LANGUAGES.

THE TWENTIETH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES.

The year just passed brought us much encouragement in many ways, but especially from the fact that the work of our Institution was recognized as being of great importance to the welfare of the State of Pennsylvania by the last Legislature, which voted $80,000 for the support of our school for the next two years ; $40,000 for each of the two years.

Because of insufficient State revenues, Governor Hastings felt obliged to cut down the appropriations voted to many admirable institutions, and so cut ours in half, leaving $40,000 for the second year, the first payment on which will be made on May 20, 1897, thus leaving the School without State aid for over a year and a half. We have appealed to the public to make this up to us by subscription ; for the school work, now so flourishing and enlarged, must go on ; and the response is showing that we have the public with us and we will, no doubt, receive enough to make up this deficiency. Although we receive no State aid for this year we continue to keep as pupils those appointed to the State Free Scholarships, the expense of which, of course, is paid by the funds of the Institution.

We have again to congratulate ourselves upon the united way in which the work in all departments has been carried on by all who are so deeply interested and much of our success is due to this unity.

Thanks are due to the Associate Committee of Women for their wise and continuous efforts for the best interests of the Institution.

We have to lament the most unexpected death of our friend and associate, Mrs. George K. Crozer, whose admirable advice and well directed energy were of great value to the Institution.

The details of the workings of the Museum and of the School will be found in the Reports of the Director of the Museum and the Principal of the School.

WILLIAM PLATT PEPPER,

President.

REPORT OF THE MUSEUM.

I have the honor to submit the following report :

During the year ending with the 1st inst., the Museum was visited by 382,085 persons. This is an increase of more than 2500 over the previous year and again brings forward the record of the maximum number of visitors from the previous to the following year. It is satisfactory to note that large as the attendance is, and although the galleries are often crowded to excess, there has been no instance of misbehavior calling for arrest and no act of petty vandalism to reprimand. While the visitors are drawn from all classes of the community, good behavior and appreciation of the proprieties of the place are generally observed.

The inconvenient crowding of the galleries which has become a common occurrence on Sunday afternoons, requires consideration. While on the one hand the number of visitors is increasing, on the other hand the demand for more floor space for the Museum collections is making encroachment on the passage-ways. I would, therefore, respectfully suggest that you determine whether the time has not arrived to petition the Park Commissioners to have plans prepared for the enlargement of the building.

The most notable event in the review of the year is the opening of the new Coin room to the public on the 14th of December.

The collections include, beside the large private collections of Clarence B. Moore, Dr. Isaac Norris, and the late Thomas Hockley, two of which have been presented to the Museum, the collections of the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society, of the Philadelphia Library Company, and of the American Philosophical Society. The coins are arranged in specially constructed flat cases with heavy plate glass covers. The room is well lighted and it can, if necessary, be made double the present size by setting back the wall cases by which it is enclosed, on two sides. Altogether, the plans adopted give to the Museum one of the most conveniently arranged coin rooms to be found anywhere. Thanks are due to Mr. F. D. Langenheim, and to my assistant, Mr. Hans M. Wilder, for the classification and arrangement of the coins.

To the Department of American Pottery, where Mr. E. A. Barber is believed to have gathered the most complete and representative historical collection of the art in existence, his continued interest and assistance have made numerous valuable acquisitions. The apathy of the potters themselves, is the chief difficulty in the way of making the collection illustrative of the potter's art in America at the present time.

The Textile Department is again indebted to Mrs. John Harrison, for valuable gifts of laces, embroideries, and other precious fabrics. To her this department is indebted for the gift of an interesting collection of specimens of antique lace presented by Mr. Carl Schneider, of Frankfort-on-the-Main.

To Mrs. Harrison the Museum is also indebted for the loan of a portion of her large collection of antique silver ornaments and jewelry, in hammered, repousse and filigree work.

The annexed list of gifts and loans will show that the Museum has been more than usually fortunate in the value, the number and variety of its acquisitions during the year.

Chief among the gifts is a collection of Venice and Vienna glass, presented by Mr. John T. Morris. This collection was selected by Mr. Morris at the two great factories of Lobmeyr and the Venezia-Murano Company, with a special view of making it representative of the best and highest artistic work which these factories are producing, or have produced.

It numbers seventy pieces, about evenly divided between the two factories, and each piece is accompanied by a full description of article, whether original or a reproduction, the date, and the name of the artist, when such information was obtainable. The collection fills two large cases, and when placed on exhibition will doubtless prove one of the most attractive features of the Museum.

It is proper that I should make record before closing this report, of the loss the Museum has sustained in the death of Dr. Robert H. Lamborn. Dr. Lamborn was one of the earliest friends of the Museum, and it was his practice to loan to us from time to time those of the art treasures which he was constantly collecting that he thought would be desirable for us to have. Finally, these loans became so numerous, that at his request they were brought together into one room. This room he named the Lamborn Room, and it was his purpose, had he lived to have made the Lamborn Room the chief repository of his art treasures.

Following is the list of the gifts and loans :

An Alcove in the School of Drawing.

THE SCHOOL.

The history of the School continues to be a record of uninterrupted progress. The attendance steadily increases, and an appreciable improvement is noticed each year, not only in the evidences of more adequate preparation, but of more serious and intelligent purpose on the part of the pupils in attendance.

The registration for the year is 712, an increase of 122 over that recorded in the last annual report, or rather more than 20 per cent.

Miss Frances L. Farrand and Mr. Alfred J. Dewey have been added to the staff of the Art School as instructors in Drawing. In the Textile School the organization of the corps of instructors remains the same as it was a year ago, except that Mr. Joseph Shinn, one of our younger teachers, and one who has received his entire training in this School, has charge of the work in Jacquard Designing that was formerly taught by Mr. Capper.

The most important addition that was made to the equipment of the School was the installation of a complete spinning plant by the M. A. Furbush Machine Co., of this city, which is mentioned elsewhere in the list of donations received.

This machinery, which comprises a full set of carding machines for wool, and a 400 spindle "mule," 66 feet long, represents a money value of about $3000, and its presentation furnishes the most gratifying evidence which we have received this year of the estimation in which this School is held by that large and influential class of progressive and public spirited manufacturers to which the School was already so deeply indebted, and on whose confidence and support its success and usefulness must always to a great extent depend.

It is gratifying to note that this interest is by no means confined to our own city or State, but that manufacturers in all sections of the country, and especially in New England, are among our most generous friends.

The liberality of these manufacturers in furnishing a very large part of the equipment of the Textile School has been noted in former reports.

By request of the officers, an exhibition of the work of the School was made on the occasion of the annual meeting of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, which was held at Boston, on January 10, 1895, at which meeting Mr. Theodore C. Search, Vice-President and Chairman of the Committee on Instruction of this Institution delivered an address on the work of the School, and its significance as a factor in the economic problems which the age presents.

The address was printed in full in the Bulletin of the Association, and was extensively circulated in pamphlet form, as well as by being copied by many other journals throughout the country.

The appreciation shown by the members of the Association is best expressed in their own words. The following resolution was adopted at the conclusion of Mr. Search's address:

"Resolved, That wool manufacturers present at the thirtieth annual meeting of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers having examined the splendid exhibit here presented of the work of the pupils of the Philadelphia Textile School, and having listened to the explanation of its methods and the general plan and purpose made by its

A Room in the Weaving School—Hand Looms.

Vice-President, Mr. Theodore C. Search, desire to make this public expression of their appreciation of the work of this institution, and their belief in its practical value and constantly enlarging usefulness in the advancement of textile manufacture in the United States. We recognize the Philadelphia Textile School as the equal of the best European institutions of similar character, and we cordially commend it to the patronage and generosity of all textile manufacturers who realize that the future progress of the United States in these great industries must be along the lines of the most perfect workmanship and the highest artistic development."

At the close of the exhibition, which was made at the Parker House, in connection with this meeting of the Association, it was decided, at the urgent solicitation of many of its members, to allow the work to remain on exhibition some time longer for the benefit of the city at large. The request for this continuance was emphasized in an especially gratifying way by the well known dry goods house of Parker, Wilder & Co., who generously placed at our disposal the entire first floor of their establishment in Winthrop Square. The exhibition remained open for one week, and attracted an amount of interest, and of the most favorable comment from the public, as well as from the press of Boston, that was gratifying and encouraging in the extreme.

As one result of the interest which was thus excited, a bill was promptly passed by the Massachusetts Legislature, which was in session at the time, providing for the establishment of similar schools in four of the principal manufacturing centres of that State, a joint special committee of both houses of the Legislature having first visited our School and presented a most favorable report regarding the importance to the State of promoting and encouraging this form of education.

Subsequent discussion of the question seems to have developed a very general conviction on the part of those who have taken the most active part in it, that the movement in Massachusetts is most likely to result in the establishment of a system of night-schools for the benefit mainly of operatives, and devoted to rather elementary work, while that section of the country will continue to rely on our school to furnish the more advanced instruction. It will be seen, therefore, that any schools of this kind that are likely to be established in the near future, even in New England, are justly to be regarded as preparatory and tributary to our own rather than as rivals of it.

Another exhibit of school work was made in the House of Representatives at Harrisburg on March 5th, at which time a joint meeting of both houses of the State Legislature was addressed by Mr. Theodore C. Search, Mr. Charles H. Harding and Mr. Alexander Crow, of the Board of Trustees. A pair of silk curtains designed and woven in the School, and in the ornamentation of which the arms of the State had been introduced, were presented to the State by Vice-President Search on this occasion. The curtains are of considerable interest as being, probably, the most elaborate example of weaving that has hitherto been produced in America. A replica was exhibited at the Columbian Exhibition, and one was purchased for the Museum of Industrial Art at Stuttgart by the director of that institution.

After repeated solicitations from the authorities of the Atlanta Exposition, that the School should make an exhibition there—solicitation to which I first felt compelled to give a negative answer, on account of the expense—I decided at last that we would make the exhibition. This I did in compliance with what I found to be the very earnest desire of the State authorities, and at the request of a commission of which General Hastings was president. In order that our exhibit might be properly installed, I offered the services of Mr. Algeo, one of our teachers, as the person to have charge of installing all the educational exhibits from Pennsylvania, and he went to Atlanta and superintended this work. Our exhibition was about the same as we made at Chicago, and occupied a conspicuous place in the Manufacturers' and Liberal Arts Building. The exhibit was made without any expense to this institution.

In pursuance of the arrangement authorized last spring by the Museum Committee, I have taken steps to place in the north vestibule at Memorial Hall this Atlanta exhibit as soon as it is returned to us. This will give us what we have never had before—a permanent exhibition at the Hall of a sufficiently comprehensive character to do justice to the School.

Extensive alterations were made in the plumbing and heating apparatus during the summer months, under the direction of Mr. Thompson, superintendent of the building, and Mr. France, who has always given a great deal of attention to this part of the establishment, the engineering work being necessarily in very close relation to the running of the machinery in the Textile School. I desire to testify in this place my sense of grateful recognition of the manner in which this vacation work has been attended to by Mr. France and his assistants, for all of whom the vacation has virtually not existed, the whole summer having been spent in this work, and a considerable expense, which would otherwise have been necessary, has been saved. The cost of these alterations, therefore, has been very slight, hardly anything more than the cost of materials. The installation of the new carding and spinning machinery, already alluded to, has also been accomplished mainly in the same way—pretty much all the expenses outside of the cost of the shafting and the belting having been generously contributed by Mr. Furbush himself, and the extra labor incident to its setting up being done by our own people.

The following addition to our list of free scholarships was made during the summer: Mrs. C. E. French-Graham, of Asheville, N. C., sent to President Pepper, on July 15th, a gift of $1000, by which she established a perpetual scholarship in the Art School, to be known as the "Clayton French Scholarship," in memory of her father. Later in the year she requested me to make the appointment of the first recipient, and I accordingly, with her full approval, gave the appointment to Miss Nettie S. Stemple, a deaf and dumb girl, who had been recommended to me by Superintendent Crouter, of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Mt. Airy.

In June, 1895, two scholarships in the evening School—namely, one in the Art School and one in the Textile School—were established by the Industrial Art Society as prizes to be awarded by the instructors to deserving students already registered in the School. These scholarships were conferred this year on O. N. Falk of the Textile School, and Anne S. Bowman, of the Art School. Following is a list of free scholarships provided for in the School and of the appointments that have been made for the current year:

	Authorized Appointments.	Actual Incumbents.
State Scholarships,	64	22
Public School,	15	15
Temple Scholarships,	21	21
Barton Scholarships,	6	6
Weightman Scholarship,	1	1
Chapman Biddle Scholarship,	1	1
Clayton French Scholarship,	1	1
Industrial Art Society's Scholarships,	2	2

The second course of Illustrated Lectures, under the auspices of the T. Square Club, were given in the auditorium as follows: January 23d, F. A. Hays, on "Pen and Ink Drawing;" February 6th, "Design and Rendering." Edgar V. Seeler, and on November 6th, Frank Miles Day, on "Taormina and Girgenti."

On January 17th, a brass tablet on a slab of red Sienna marble commemorative of the munificent gift of Mr. William Weightman, by which the purchase of this property was made possible in 1893, was placed in the lobby of the School.

The entire system of prizes awarded in the Textile School was changed at the close of the school-year ending June 7, 1895. The money-prizes which, up to that time, it had been customary to award, have been replaced by a system of medals in gold, silver, and bronze, the highest prize being the Theodore C. Search gold medal, presented to the School by Mr. Search, and bestowed on the graduate of the full course of three years who attains the grade of "Highest Honor."

Gold, silver, and bronze medals were also presented by the Textile World and the American Wool Reporter, both of Boston, and the Finckel Silver Medal, by Mr. Martin L. Finckel, of this city.

The School has been the recipient of a number of valuable gifts during the year, notably a collection of pieces of Lobmeyr glass, comprising an interesting variety of vases, goblets, bottles, pitchers, etc., in various colors, and with enamelled or etched decorations, presented by Mr. John T. Morris; who also gave the School a collection of embossed and painted leather made by Mora Bros., of Milan. The gift of glass was supplemented by a similar gift of several pieces presented by Mr. Lobmeyr himself.

A bronze salver and two bronze pitchers, of the time of Francis I., have also been presented by Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, and a papier maché vase, of Persian workmanship, by Dr. William Pepper; a piece of Irish embroidery presented by Mrs. Carmick, and a number of costumes, etc., presented for the use of the Sketch Class, by Miss Anna Hartshorne.

Several pieces of Javanese cotton were purchased with funds provided by the Associate Committee of Women.

The Textile School has received the following donations:

A set of wool-carding machines, a woollen mule, and a traverse or floor-grinder, with assistance in placing them in position, from the M. A. Furbush Co., of Philadelphia. Value, about $3000.

A Bramwell feeder, from the George S. Harwood & Son Co., of Boston, Mass. Value, $250.

Card clothing for the above-mentioned set of cards, from the American Card Clothing Co., H. A. White, Manager. Value, $700.

A large show-case, with contents, hemp, jute, and flax, with other material for use in the school, from Messrs. C. Moore & Co., Philadelphia. Value, $50.

A wool-picker and a "willow," for opening and cleaning wool. from Mr. Wm. Schofield, Manayunk. Value, $450.

A burr-picker, from Sargent & Sons, Graniteville, Mass. Value, $650.

Self-balancing hydro extractor, with small engine, bolts, etc., complete, from Schaum & Uhlinger, Philadelphia. Value, $300.

One Curtiss & Marble teasel-gig, from Thomas Dolan, Philadelphia. Value, $100.

A machine for making card clothing, including shaft and belting, from Clarence W. Arnold, Philadelphia. Value, $75.

Fancy yarns from the Cranston Worsted Mills. Value, $15.

Scouring soap, from the Warren Soap Co. Value, $9.

Woollen yarns from the Assabet Manufacturing Co., $180; Mr. W. H. Sayles, of Dayville, Conn., $60; and W. A. Walton & Co., of Richmond Switch, R. I., $25.

Materials of various kinds, cotton, yarn, card-fly, oil, etc., from D. Trainer & Sons, Trainer, Pa.; The Continental Worsted Mills, Philadelphia; and Crew, Levick & Co., of Philadelphia.

Assistance, and loans of machinery, from Mr. John Lunn, Philadelphia; Southwark Mills Co.; Beswick & Kay; George Campbell & Co.

A 15-H.P. upright engine, loaned by the J. B. Stetson Co., of Philadelphia, and a smaller engine loaned by Mr. Thomas Ridington, of Bridgeport, Pa.

A lathe loaned by Prof. W. R. Wilson, of the Economic Museum.

The Textile World, Fibre and Fabric, Boston, Mass., and the Textile Record and Textile Colorist, Philadelphia, have placed standing advertisements of the Textile School free of charge in their valuable journals.

Eighty-four volumes and pamphlets have been added to the library during the year, of which three were purchased, and the remaining eighty-one donated by Mr. Lorin Blodgett, Gen. A. Hun Berry, Mrs. Thomas Hockley, Mr. J. C. Smock, State Geologist of New Jersey, Miss Magee, Mr. Edwin Atlee Barber, The Bureau of Ethnology, Washington, and Dr. W. N. Engle, State Librarian at Harrisburg.

Three original drawings by old masters have been presented by Mr. Leo Nardus.

The commencement exercises were held in the Academy of Music on Friday evening, June 7th, and were followed by an exhibition of students' work and a garden party at the School Building, Broad and Pine Streets, the latter being under the auspices of the graduates.

Addresses were made by Mr. Theodore C. Search, Mayor Warwick, Frank P. Bennett, Mrs. E. D. Gillespie and Dr. Edward P. Davis.

Nine appointments to State scholarships have been made this year, viz., for Chester, Dauphin, Fayette, Franklin, Northampton, Philadelphia, Pike, Lackawanna and Warren Counties, making twenty-two holders of these appointments at present in the school.

The scholarships placed at the disposal of the Board of Public Education were filled as usual by a competitive examination conducted by the Principal, each Grammar School Principal being authorized to send candidates.

Five of these appointments are made each year, each appointment being for three years. Of the fifteen appointed in the last three years thirteen are at present registered in the school.

In addition to the above, ten scholarships are annually filled from the Normal, High, and Manual Training Schools of the city. These scholarships are granted in the Day Classes of this Institution on the completion of the course of study in any one of the above named high schools; and in the evening classes to students who have not finished their course; two scholarships for each school, one in the day and one in the evening classes being at the disposal of the faculties of the several schools. While these appointments are made for one year, they are sometimes renewed in recognition of meritorious work on the part of the pupil, and twelve appointees to these scholarships are at present registered in the school.

Of the seven hundred and twelve students registered for the year ending December 31, 1895, three hundred and ninety were men and three hundred and twenty-two were women.

Appended are lists of students registered since December 31, 1894, showing their occupations and the localities from which they come.

REPORT OF THE ASSOCIATE COMMITTEE OF WOMEN.

The close of this year finds us ready to give to the people of this Commonwealth the report of the work accomplished in this their Institution during the past twelve months. While the Museum has had valuable additions to its treasures, and new objects of interest and instruction are through it laid before our citizens, the School has been fitting for the battle of life the young of both sexes who come to us to find the armor (education) which is to protect them in their warfare, and to give them strength when they leave us to go forth and help others in varied careers of honor and usefulness.

They leave behind them those who have trained them not only in their studies, but through good example ; for surely never was any Institution blessed with a more intelligent, capable, steady, considerate and loyal corps of teachers, and never were teachers better rewarded with earnest, faithful and grateful students.

For those who look after the interests of the School, and through it after the character and prosperity of our city and State, the past year has been one of anxiety. Our well-founded hopes of aid from the State (aid which had been given us freely and gladly for many years), were dashed, while care and disappointment were our companions ; but though " heaviness may endure for a night, joy cometh in the morning." We came from our summer holiday fearing that the improvements projected in the spring for the comfort of an increased number of pupils must of necessity have been left undone. Instead, we found our teachers working with the plumbers and carpenters to make the essential changes, while to accomplish this these noble teachers had given up their summer holiday. Pupils in greater number than before are with us now, and we may safely predict that any work carried on through so much self-sacrifice, shared as it is by all concerned, will find new friends, and that this Institution will never die.

We propose to hold during Easter week, 1896, a bazaar, with many and varied attractions, for the benefit of the School. We rely confidently on the encouragement and support of the people of this Commonwealth in this undertaking. The institution belongs to the State, one free scholarship is given to each county, and we are sure that it will be the pleasure and privilege of all to help to shift, if not remove, the care and burden of its support from the shoulders of the few on whom they have rested since 1876.

The following is a list of prizes given through the Associate Committee at the Commencement in June, 1895 :

Audited and found correct,

E. H. B. ROBERTS,
HELEN B. JASTROW.

We have been called upon to mourn the loss of one of the most valued members of our Committee. Her unvarying interest, her good judgment and her hopeful spirit, did much to animate us all in our work. The memory of her patience, her gentleness and her ability will still be with us, but our friend, our counsellor, has gone to her reward. Her husband, Mr. George K. Crozer, has arranged that the prizes given in her name last June shall be continued perpetually. Her character still lives in the memories of some of our pupils—by her co-workers she will never be forgotten.

E. D. GILLESPIE,
President.

THE PENNSYLVANIA MUSEUM,

Organized as a Museum of Industrial Arts, has grown far beyond the limits set for it at first. The pictures and statuary in the Bloomfield-Moore collection and the food-products in the collection of British India indicate its present scope. Its division into departments, under the supervision of specialists, has been undertaken. Those already organized comprise:

DEPARTMENT OF AMERICAN POTTERY.

DEPARTMENT OF NUMISMATICS.

F. D. LANGENHEIM, Honorary Curator.

DEPARTMENT OF TEXTILES, LACE AND EMBROIDERY.

MRS. JOHN HARRISON, Honorary Curator.

DEPARTMENT OF GOLDSMITH WORK, JEWELRY AND PLATE.

CHAS. D. CLARK, Honorary Curator.

DALTON DERR, Director of the Museum.

M. D. WOODNUTT, Assistant.

WILLIAM LINDSAY, Superintendent.

THE SCHOOL OF INDUSTRIAL ART

Comprises in its organization the following Departments :

SCHOOL OF DRAWING.

SCHOOL OF TEXTILE DESIGN AND MANUFACTURE.

SCHOOL OF DECORATIVE PAINTING.

SCHOOL OF CHEMISTRY AND DYEING.

SCHOOL OF APPLIED DESIGN.

SCHOOL OF WOOD CARVING.

SCHOOL OF DECORATIVE SCULPTURE.

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN.

SCHOOL OF MURAL DECORATION.

SCHOOL OF NORMAL ART INSTRUCTION.

SCHOOL OF MODERN LANGUAGES.

STAFF.

THE PENNSYLVANIA MUSEUM

AND

SCHOOL OF INDUSTRIAL ART.

THE TWENTIETH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES.

The year just passed brought us much encouragement in many ways, but especially from the fact that the work of our Institution was recognized as being of great importance to the welfare of the State of Pennsylvania by the last Legislature, which voted $80,000 for the support of our school for the next two years ; $40,000 for each of the two years.

Because of insufficient State revenues, Governor Hastings felt obliged to cut down the appropriations voted to many admirable institutions, and so cut ours in half, leaving $40,000 for the second year, the first payment on which will be made on May 20, 1897, thus leaving the School without State aid for over a year and a half. We have appealed to the public to make this up to us by subscription ; for the school work, now so flourishing and enlarged, must go on ; and the response is showing that we have the public with us and we will, no doubt, receive enough to make up this deficiency. Although we receive no State aid for this year we continue to keep as pupils those appointed to the State Free Scholarships, the expense of which, of course, is paid by the funds of the Institution.

We have again to congratulate ourselves upon the united way in which the work in all departments has been carried on by all who are so deeply interested and much of our success is due to this unity.

Thanks are due to the Associate Committee of Women for their wise and continuous efforts for the best interests of the Institution.

We have to lament the most unexpected death of our friend and associate, Mrs. George K. Crozer, whose admirable advice and well directed energy were of great value to the Institution.

The details of the workings of the Museum and of the School will be found in the Reports of the Director of the Museum and the Principal of the School.

WILLIAM PLATT PEPPER,

President.

REPORT OF THE MUSEUM.

I have the honor to submit the following report :

During the year ending with the 1st inst., the Museum was visited by 382,085 persons. This is an increase of more than 2500 over the previous year and again brings forward the record of the maximum number of visitors from the previous to the following year. It is satisfactory to note that large as the attendance is, and although the galleries are often crowded to excess, there has been no instance of misbehavior calling for arrest and no act of petty vandalism to reprimand. While the visitors are drawn from all classes of the community, good behavior and appreciation of the proprieties of the place are generally observed.

The inconvenient crowding of the galleries which has become a common occurrence on Sunday afternoons, requires consideration. While on the one hand the number of visitors is increasing, on the other hand the demand for more floor space for the Museum collections is making encroachment on the passage-ways. I would, therefore, respectfully suggest that you determine whether the time has not arrived to petition the Park Commissioners to have plans prepared for the enlargement of the building.

The most notable event in the review of the year is the opening of the new Coin room to the public on the 14th of December.

The collections include, beside the large private collections of Clarence B. Moore, Dr. Isaac Norris, and the late Thomas Hockley, two of which have been presented to the Museum, the collections of the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society, of the Philadelphia Library Company, and of the American Philosophical Society. The coins are arranged in specially constructed flat cases with heavy plate glass covers. The room is well lighted and it can, if necessary, be made double the present size by setting back the wall cases by which it is enclosed, on two sides. Altogether, the plans adopted give to the Museum one of the most conveniently arranged coin rooms to be found anywhere. Thanks are due to Mr. F. D. Langenheim, and to my assistant, Mr. Hans M. Wilder, for the classification and arrangement of the coins.

To the Department of American Pottery, where Mr. E. A. Barber is believed to have gathered the most complete and representative historical collection of the art in existence, his continued interest and assistance have made numerous valuable acquisitions. The apathy of the potters themselves, is the chief difficulty in the way of making the collection illustrative of the potter's art in America at the present time.

The Textile Department is again indebted to Mrs. John Harrison, for valuable gifts of laces, embroideries, and other precious fabrics. To her this department is indebted for the gift of an interesting collection of specimens of antique lace presented by Mr. Carl Schneider, of Frankfort-on-the-Main.

To Mrs. Harrison the Museum is also indebted for the loan of a portion of her large collection of antique silver ornaments and jewelry, in hammered, repousse and filigree work.

The annexed list of gifts and loans will show that the Museum has been more than usually fortunate in the value, the number and variety of its acquisitions during the year.

Chief among the gifts is a collection of Venice and Vienna glass, presented by Mr. John T. Morris. This collection was selected by Mr. Morris at the two great factories of Lobmeyr and the Venezia-Murano Company, with a special view of making it representative of the best and highest artistic work which these factories are producing, or have produced.

It numbers seventy pieces, about evenly divided between the two factories, and each piece is accompanied by a full description of article, whether original or a reproduction, the date, and the name of the artist, when such information was obtainable. The collection fills two large cases, and when placed on exhibition will doubtless prove one of the most attractive features of the Museum.

It is proper that I should make record before closing this report, of the loss the Museum has sustained in the death of Dr. Robert H. Lamborn. Dr. Lamborn was one of the earliest friends of the Museum, and it was his practice to loan to us from time to time those of the art treasures which he was constantly collecting that he thought would be desirable for us to have. Finally, these loans became so numerous, that at his request they were brought together into one room. 'This room he named the Lamborn Room, and it was his purpose, had he lived to have made the Lamborn Room the chief repository of his art treasures.

Following is the list of the gifts and loans :

An Alcove in the School of Drawing.

THE SCHOOL.

The history of the School continues to be a record of uninterrupted progress. The attendance steadily increases, and an appreciable improvement is noticed each year, not only in the evidences of more adequate preparation, but of more serious and intelligent purpose on the part of the pupils in attendance.

The registration for the year is 712, an increase of 122 over that recorded in the last annual report, or rather more than 20 per cent.

Miss Frances L. Farrand and Mr. Alfred J. Dewey have been added to the staff of the Art School as instructors in Drawing. In the Textile School the organization of the corps of instructors remains the same as it was a year ago, except that Mr. Joseph Shinn, one of our younger teachers, and one who has received his entire training in this School, has charge of the work in Jacquard Designing that was formerly taught by Mr. Capper.

The most important addition that was made to the equipment of the School was the installation of a complete spinning plant by the M. A. Furbush Machine Co., of this city, which is mentioned elsewhere in the list of donations received.

This machinery, which comprises a full set of carding machines for wool, and a 400 spindle "mule," 66 feet long, represents a money value of about $3000, and its presentation furnishes the most gratifying evidence which we have received this year of the estimation in which this School is held by that large and influential class of progressive and public spirited manufacturers to which the School was already so deeply indebted, and on whose confidence and support its success and usefulness must always to a great extent depend.

It is gratifying to note that this interest is by no means confined to our own city or State, but that manufacturers in all sections of the country, and especially in New England, are among our most generous friends.

The liberality of these manufacturers in furnishing a very large part of the equipment of the Textile School has been noted in former reports.

By request of the officers, an exhibition of the work of the School was made on the occasion of the annual meeting of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, which was held at Boston, on January 10, 1895, at which meeting Mr. Theodore C. Search, Vice-President and Chairman of the Committee on Instruction of this Institution delivered an address on the work of the School, and its significance as a factor in the economic problems which the age presents.

The address was printed in full in the Bulletin of the Association, and was extensively circulated in pamphlet form, as well as by being copied by many other journals throughout the country.

The appreciation shown by the members of the Association is best expressed in their own words. The following resolution was adopted at the conclusion of Mr. Search's address:

"Resolved, That wool manufacturers present at the thirtieth annual meeting of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers having examined the splendid exhibit here presented of the work of the pupils of the Philadelphia Textile School, and having listened to the explanation of its methods and the general plan and purpose made by its

A Room in the Weaving School—Hand Looms.

Vice-President, Mr. Theodore C. Search, desire to make this public expression of their appreciation of the work of this institution, and their belief in its practical value and constantly enlarging usefulness in the advancement of textile manufacture in the United States. We recognize the Philadelphia Textile School as the equal of the best European institutions of similar character, and we cordially commend it to the patronage and generosity of all textile manufacturers who realize that the future progress of the United States in these great industries must be along the lines of the most perfect workmanship and the highest artistic development."

At the close of the exhibition, which was made at the Parker House, in connection with this meeting of the Association, it was decided, at the urgent solicitation of many of its members, to allow the work to remain on exhibition some time longer for the benefit of the city at large. The request for this continuance was emphasized in an especially gratifying way by the well known dry goods house of Parker, Wilder & Co., who generously placed at our disposal the entire first floor of their establishment in Winthrop Square. The exhibition remained open for one week, and attracted an amount of interest, and of the most favorable comment from the public, as well as from the press of Boston, that was gratifying and encouraging in the extreme.

As one result of the interest which was thus excited, a bill was promptly passed by the Massachusetts Legislature, which was in session at the time, providing for the establishment of similar schools in four of the principal manufacturing centres of that State, a joint special committee of both houses of the Legislature having first visited our School and presented a most favorable report regarding the importance to the State of promoting and encouraging this form of education.

Subsequent discussion of the question seems to have developed a very general conviction on the part of those who have taken the most active part in it, that the movement in Massachusetts is most likely to result in the establishment of a system of night-schools for the benefit mainly of operatives, and devoted to rather elementary work, while that section of the country will continue to rely on our school to furnish the more advanced instruction. It will be seen, therefore, that any schools of this kind that are likely to be established in the near future, even in New England, are justly to be regarded as preparatory and tributary to our own rather than as rivals of it.

Another exhibit of school work was made in the House of Representatives at Harrisburg on March 5th, at which time a joint meeting of both houses of the State Legislature was addressed by Mr. Theodore C. Search, Mr. Charles H. Harding and Mr. Alexander Crow, of the Board of Trustees. A pair of silk curtains designed and woven in the School, and in the ornamentation of which the arms of the State had been introduced, were presented to the State by Vice-President Search on this occasion. The curtains are of considerable interest as being, probably, the most elaborate example of weaving that has hitherto been produced in America. A replica was exhibited at the Columbian Exhibition, and one was purchased for the Museum of Industrial Art at Stuttgart by the director of that institution.

After repeated solicitations from the authorities of the Atlanta Exposition, that the School should make an exhibition there—solicitation to which I first felt compelled to give a negative answer, on account of the expense—I decided at last that we would make the exhibition. This I did in compliance with what I found to be the very earnest desire of the State authorities, and at the request of a commission of which General Hastings was president. In order that our exhibit might be properly installed, I offered the services of Mr. Algeo, one of our teachers, as the person to have charge of installing all the educational exhibits from Pennsylvania, and he went to Atlanta and superintended this work. Our exhibition was about the same as we made at Chicago, and occupied a conspicuous place in the Manufacturers' and Liberal Arts Building. The exhibit was made without any expense to this institution.

In pursuance of the arrangement authorized last spring by the Museum Committee, I have taken steps to place in the north vestibule at Memorial Hall this Atlanta exhibit as soon as it is returned to us. This will give us what we have never had before—a permanent exhibition at the Hall of a sufficiently comprehensive character to do justice to the School.

Extensive alterations were made in the plumbing and heating apparatus during the summer months, under the direction of Mr. Thompson, superintendent of the building, and Mr. France, who has always given a great deal of attention to this part of the establishment, the engineering work being necessarily in very close relation to the running of the machinery in the Textile School. I desire to testify in this place my sense of grateful recognition of the manner in which this vacation work has been attended to by Mr. France and his assistants, for all of whom the vacation has virtually not existed, the whole summer having been spent in this work, and a considerable expense, which would otherwise have been necessary, has been saved. The cost of these alterations, therefore, has been very slight, hardly anything more than the cost of materials. The installation of the new carding and spinning machinery, already alluded to, has also been accomplished mainly in the same way—pretty much all the expenses outside of the cost of the shafting and the belting having been generously contributed by Mr. Furbush himself, and the extra labor incident to its setting up being done by our own people.

The following addition to our list of free scholarships was made during the summer: Mrs. C. E. French-Graham, of Asheville, N. C., sent to President Pepper, on July 15th, a gift of $1000, by which she established a perpetual scholarship in the Art School, to be known as the "Clayton French Scholarship," in memory of her father. Later in the year she requested me to make the appointment of the first recipient, and I accordingly, with her full approval, gave the appointment to Miss Nettie S. Stemple, a deaf and dumb girl, who had been recommended to me by Superintendent Crouter, of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Mt. Airy.

In June, 1895, two scholarships in the evening School—namely, one in the Art School and one in the Textile School—were established by the Industrial Art Society as prizes to be awarded by the instructors to deserving students already registered in the School. These scholarships were conferred this year on O. N. Falk of the Textile School, and Anne S. Bowman, of the Art School. Following is a list of free scholarships provided for in the School and of the appointments that have been made for the current year:

	Authorized Appointments.	Actual Incumbents.
State Scholarships,	64	22
Public School,	15	15
Temple Scholarships,	21	21
Barton Scholarships,	6	6
Weightman Scholarship,	1	1
Chapman Biddle Scholarship.	1	1
Clayton French Scholarship,	1	1
Industrial Art Society's Scholarships,	2	2

The second course of Illustrated Lectures, under the auspices of the T. Square Club, were given in the auditorium as follows: January 23d, F. A. Hays, on "Pen and Ink Drawing;" February 6th, "Design and Rendering," Edgar V. Seeler, and on November 6th, Frank Miles Day, on "Taormina and Girgenti."

On January 17th, a brass tablet on a slab of red Sienna marble commemorative of the munificent gift of Mr. William Weightman, by which the purchase of this property was made possible in 1893, was placed in the lobby of the School.

The entire system of prizes awarded in the Textile School was changed at the close of the school-year ending June 7, 1895. The money-prizes which, up to that time, it had been customary to award, have been replaced by a system of medals in gold, silver, and bronze, the highest prize being the Theodore C. Search gold medal, presented to the School by Mr. Search, and bestowed on the graduate of the full course of three years who attains the grade of "Highest Honor."

Gold, silver, and bronze medals were also presented by the Textile World and the American Wool Reporter, both of Boston, and the Finckel Silver Medal, by Mr. Martin L. Finckel, of this city.

The School has been the recipient of a number of valuable gifts during the year, notably a collection of pieces of Lobmeyr glass, comprising an interesting variety of vases, goblets, bottles, pitchers, etc., in various colors, and with enamelled or etched decorations, presented by Mr. John T. Morris; who also gave the School a collection of embossed and painted leather made by Mora Bros., of Milan. The gift of glass was supplemented by a similar gift of several pieces presented by Mr. Lobmeyr himself.

A bronze salver and two bronze pitchers, of the time of Francis I., have also been presented by Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, and a papier maché vase, of Persian workmanship, by Dr. William Pepper; a piece of Irish embroidery presented by Mrs. Carmick, and a number of costumes, etc., presented for the use of the Sketch Class, by Miss Anna Hartshorne.

Several pieces of Javanese cotton were purchased with funds provided by the Associate Committee of Women.

The Textile School has received the following donations:

Nine appointments to State scholarships have been made this year, viz., for Chester, Dauphin, Fayette, Franklin, Northampton, Philadelphia, Pike, Lackawanna and Warren Counties, making twenty-two holders of these appointments at present in the school.

The scholarships placed at the disposal of the Board of Public Education were filled as usual by a competitive examination conducted by the Principal, each Grammar School Principal being authorized to send candidates.

Five of these appointments are made each year, each appointment being for three years. Of the fifteen appointed in the last three years thirteen are at present registered in the school.

In addition to the above, ten scholarships are annually filled from the Normal, High, and Manual Training Schools of the city. These scholarships are granted in the Day Classes of this Institution on the completion of the course of study in any one of the above named high schools; and in the evening classes to students who have not finished their course; two scholarships for each school, one in the day and one in the evening classes being at the disposal of the faculties of the several schools. While these appointments are made for one year, they are sometimes renewed in recognition of meritorious work on the part of the pupil, and twelve appointees to these scholarships are at present registered in the school.

Of the seven hundred and twelve students registered for the year ending December 31, 1895, three hundred and ninety were men and three hundred and twenty-two were women.

Appended are lists of students registered since December 31, 1894, showing their occupations and the localities from which they come.

REPORT OF THE ASSOCIATE COMMITTEE OF WOMEN.

The close of this year finds us ready to give to the people of this Commonwealth the report of the work accomplished in this their Institution during the past twelve months. While the Museum has had valuable additions to its treasures, and new objects of interest and instruction are through it laid before our citizens, the School has been fitting for the battle of life the young of both sexes who come to us to find the armor (education) which is to protect them in their warfare, and to give them strength when they leave us to go forth and help others in varied careers of honor and usefulness.

They leave behind them those who have trained them not only in their studies, but through good example ; for surely never was any Institution blessed with a more intelligent, capable, steady, considerate and loyal corps of teachers, and never were teachers better rewarded with earnest, faithful and grateful students.

For those who look after the interests of the School, and through it after the character and prosperity of our city and State, the past year has been one of anxiety. Our well-founded hopes of aid from the State (aid which had been given us freely and gladly for many years), were dashed, while care and disappointment were our companions ; but though "heaviness may endure for a night, joy cometh in the morning." We came from our summer holiday fearing that the improvements projected in the spring for the comfort of an increased number of pupils must of necessity have been left undone. Instead, we found our teachers working with the plumbers and carpenters to make the essential changes, while to accomplish this these noble teachers had given up their summer holiday. Pupils in greater number than before are with us now, and we may safely predict that any work carried on through so much self-sacrifice, shared as it is by all concerned, will find new friends, and that this Institution will never die.

We propose to hold during Easter week, 1896, a bazaar, with many and varied attractions, for the benefit of the School. We rely confidently on the encouragement and support of the people of this Commonwealth in this undertaking. The institution belongs to the State, one free scholarship is given to each county, and we are sure that it will be the pleasure and privilege of all to help to shift, if not remove, the care and burden of its support from the shoulders of the few on whom they have rested since 1876.

The following is a list of prizes given through the Associate Committee at the Commencement in June, 1895:

COMMITTEE PRIZES.

GENERAL EXCELLENCE IN YEAR'S WORK, $20.—Alfred James Dewey.

DESIGN FOR WALL PAPERS, $10.—William S. Rice.

E. H. B. ROBERTS,
HELEN B. JASTROW.

We have been called upon to mourn the loss of one of the most valued members of our Committee. Her unvarying interest, her good judgment and her hopeful spirit, did much to animate us all in our work. The memory of her patience, her gentleness and her ability will still be with us, but our friend, our counsellor, has gone to her reward. Her husband, Mr. George K. Crozer, has arranged that the prizes given in her name last June shall be continued perpetually. Her character still lives in the memories of some of our pupils—by her co-workers she will never be forgotten.

E. D. GILLESPIE,
President.
